

We hereby declare the intent to collaborate for the formation of the Alliance of Management Development Associations in Rising Economies

We believe that in a world of rising polarity, we need to take active steps to build and deepen connections across our world. To share information and our learnings. To stronger promote initiatives and events of our members. To collaborate to create thought leadership. To lift as we rise.

The Alliance is intended to serve management schools located in rising economies through their regional member organisations. Within schools, key segments include deans, their management teams, faculty, students and alumni.
